

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 A printer device includes a plurality of memory card slots, a printing/copying key, a printing key, a copying key, etc. When a user presses the printing/copying key, a selected picture frame (image information) is printed and copied substantially simultaneously. When the printing key is pressed, the selected picture frame 10 is printed. When the copying key is pressed, the selected picture frame is copied. However, when the printing key and the copying key are continuously pressed without changing the picture frame, the picture frame selected in the preceding process is 15 used in the subsequent process.
